Happily reminiscing, Geraldine Arment and Eric Jerome recall the highpoints of their years at McCaskey as they glance over a pictured scrapbook.

Perhaps Someday It Will Be Pleasant To Remember These Things –Virgil

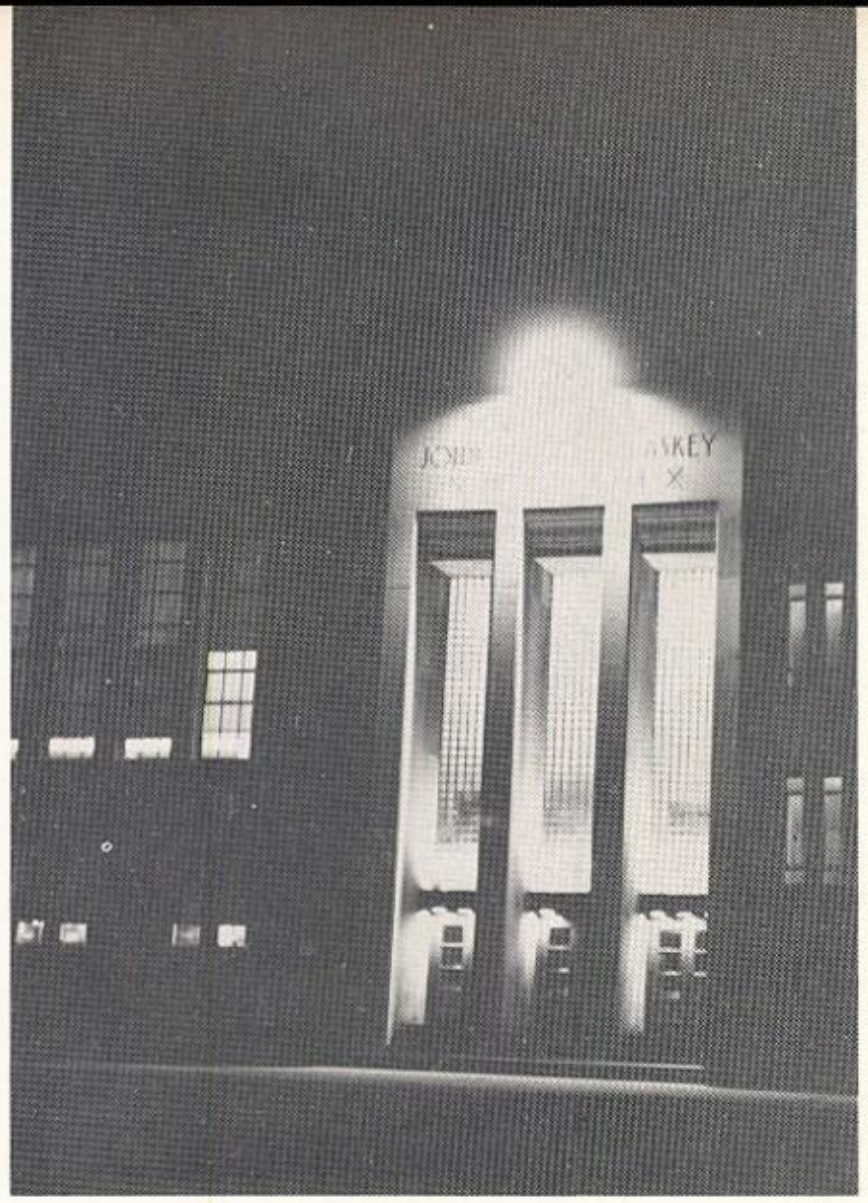
Centered around the theme of "The Golden Years," the 1965 yearbook has endeavored to highlight the sports, persons, organizations, and events that will "perhaps someday . . . be pleasant to remember . . ." Senior yearbook staff members, thru the use of Greek and Roman gods, goddesses, and quotations, have attempted to parallel the Golden Age of the past with their highschool years.

Minerva, being the goddess of wisdom, heads the faculty section. The seniors, upon graduation, recollect the incidents of yesterday and anticipate tomorrow. Therefore, Janus, the two-headed god of the past and the future, represents them. Neptune, as god of the sea, dwelt in his kingdom under the waters and thus symbolizes the underclassmen. The student life division is personified by the goddess of youth, Hebe. Apollo, decided upon because of his many duties as god of the sun, music, poetry, medicine, and the fine arts, leads the activities pages. Renowned for his unusual strength, Hercules introduces the sports section. The advertisements are preceded by an illustration of Mercury, the god of commerce.

On February 25 and 26, McCaskey paid its own little tribute to Mars, the god of war. The episode started in the swimming pool, spread to the halls, and resulted in a rather tense situation.

Other less dramatic happenings of the 1964-65 school year included four changes in the school-board membership and revisions in the curriculum. The Social Studies Department announced a complete over-haul in its course requirements so that sophomores will take United States history; juniors, world cultures; and seniors, problems of democracy and economics. A group of seniors participated in the Lancaster English Enrichment Program. Elizabethtown College offered an introductory sociology course to interested and qualified seniors.

All these events served to fill "The Golden Years" with many pleasant memories.



Through these doors . . .

Calmness Reigns At Night

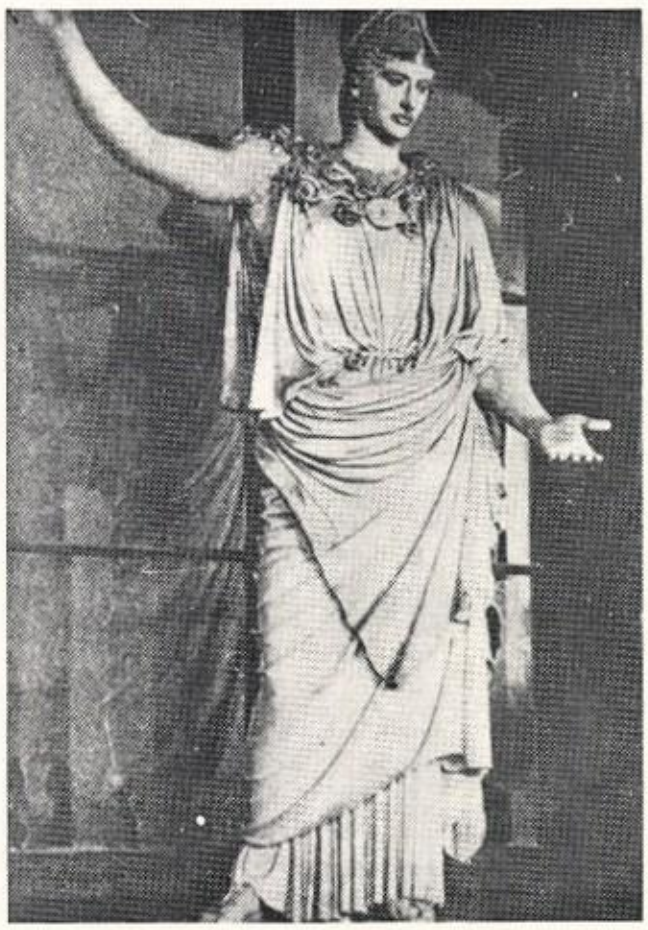
A custodian works in tranquil atmosphere.

Activity Prevails During Day

Robert Martinez, Robert Kurtz, Brenda Markley, and Karen McKinsey enjoy the out-of-doors as they "study."

Frank Witmer, Robert Bowen, and Carol Whitaker, under the instruction of Henry A. Hoover, observe nature first-hand on the school campus.

Faculty



Minerva, goddess of wisdom

Not only is there an art in knowing a thing but also a certain art in teaching it.

After teaching biology and chemistry in Lancaster city schools for almost thirty-six years, Jacob L. Hillegas retired on January 29, 1965, in order to devote more time to his flower shop. Over a period of thirteen years, Mr. Hillegas has given valuable instruction to twenty-six student teachers and thousands of students.

Above: Henry A. Hoover, who suggested the symbolic performance, observes as Jacob L. Hillegas presents a simulated torch to his successor Anthony Homer.

Top English Students Participate In LEEP

Under a joint plan between Franklin and Marshall College and McCaskey High School, outstanding English students are given the opportunity to enroll in the Lancaster English Enrichment Program, known as LEEP, and to compete on college level. Twenty-eight students were chosen to participate after being tested and interviewed by members of the college faculty.

Tuition for the course was paid by the school district, but students bought their own books. Given no special consideration because of their sub-freshmen status, they wrote and read the regular college assignments. All participants received an A or B from McCaskey despite their college mark. They may obtain advanced placement or transferable credit when they enter college in 1965.

CLASS OFFICERS:

Patricia Hofmann — Secretary

Laurel Forster (standing) — Vice-president

James Todd — Treasurer

Cynthia Bush — Historian

Robert Schaller — President

Officers Assume Duties In Golden Years

CLASS COLORS: Navy blue and gold

CLASS FLOWER: Red rose

MOTTO: Love and honor—but truth above all.

Alma Mater

Hail to thee, our Alma Mater,
As we sing our grateful song,
Proud are we for thee and prouder
That to Lancaster we belong.
School days filled with joy and laughter
Soon will be a memory.
May they teach us to be braver
As we face our destiny.

Hail to thee, our Alma Mater,
Help us now to prove our worth,
As we strive to do thee honor,
Garden spot of all the earth.
Through the years our foes discerning,
Red and black—our flag we'll fly
O'er the best in sport and learning.
Hail to thee, McCaskey High.

Below: Robert Schaller, president of the class of '65, receives from last year's president, Curt Ellenberg, the torch that one graduating class passes to the next.

Underclassmen

Neptune, god of the sea

The direction in which education starts a man will determine his future.

ECHO Work Increases As Enrollment Soars

At the close of the ECHO campaign in November, the student body numbered 2,168. In addition, there were 108 faculty members—the largest number in the history of McCaskey. These increases in both students and teachers led to the ordering of 1,575 yearbooks, an all-time high.

In mechanical drawing class, Ronald Troop and Baron Schwalm ruled layout sheets for pasting photographs in the faculty and senior sections.

VIDETTE Earns Highest NSPA Prize

Advised by John M. Silknetter, the VIDETTE staff is busy during the summer months preparing the first publication of the paper, which is distributed free to all students the first day of school.

Staff editors spend many evenings preparing page layouts, assigning stories, gathering information, copyreading, typing, headlining, and subheading. The editorial staff meets at the printer's the day before publication to proofread each page at least twice. The circulation staff keeps track of the number of papers distributed and prepares them for the exchange mailing list. Staff members interested in broadcasting present McCaskey's portion of the weekly radio show, "Scholastic Hi-Jinx."

Of the three school newspapers presented with the Keystone Award, the VIDETTE received the highest rating. Competing against more than 1000 student newspapers, the VIDETTE was also awarded, for the first seven issues, the first-place honor of the National Scholastic Press Association.

Quill And Scroll Members Contribute To Publications

High-school journalists elected to the Quill and Scroll, an international literary honor society, must contribute a specified amount of material for the benefit of either the newspaper or the yearbook. Eligibility also entails the maintenance of a position in the top third of the member's class. Both the VIDETTE and the ECHO elect new members each spring on the basis of their performance thru the school year. Enrolled at present are 52 staffers.

National Thespian Society Members Earn Stars

Under the direction of faculty advisers, Miss Naomi B. Terry, Miss Dorothy E. Schock, and Foster Augustine, the National Thespian Society admitted 38 members this year.

Ten points are required for enrollment. Stars are awarded on the basis of ten hours of work per point, each additional ten points meriting one star. Besides acting on the stage, Thespians gain their points by work in the stagecrafters' guild, in light and sound crews, and in student directing. Extra points are secured by participation in play committees, dramatics class, and Red Masque Club.

Members obey an oath and unwritten moral code exemplified by the motto: "Act well your part; there all the honor lies!"

Honorary faculty members are Foster Augustine, Robert W. Broome, S. Ernest Kilgore, Edward C. Kraft, Morris E. Krape, Miss Louise E. Kuhlmann, Miss B. Arvilla Miller, Mrs. Mary B. Myers, John H. Rodman, Miss Dorothy E. Schock, J. Irvin Shelly, and Miss Naomi B. Terry.
